A Harvey resident whose legal challenge led to the end of the Crescent City Connection tolls has been honored for his community service.

Mike Teachworth was recognized for his effort during the Bureau of Governmental Research Excellence in Government Awards presentation last week. Seven awards were presented during a luncheon at the Westin Canal Place.

"The honorees have distinguished themselves by their outstanding performance and creative problem-solving to greatly improve government for the citizens of the Greater New Orleans area," said J. Kelly Duncan, BGR board chairman.
